G. Washington

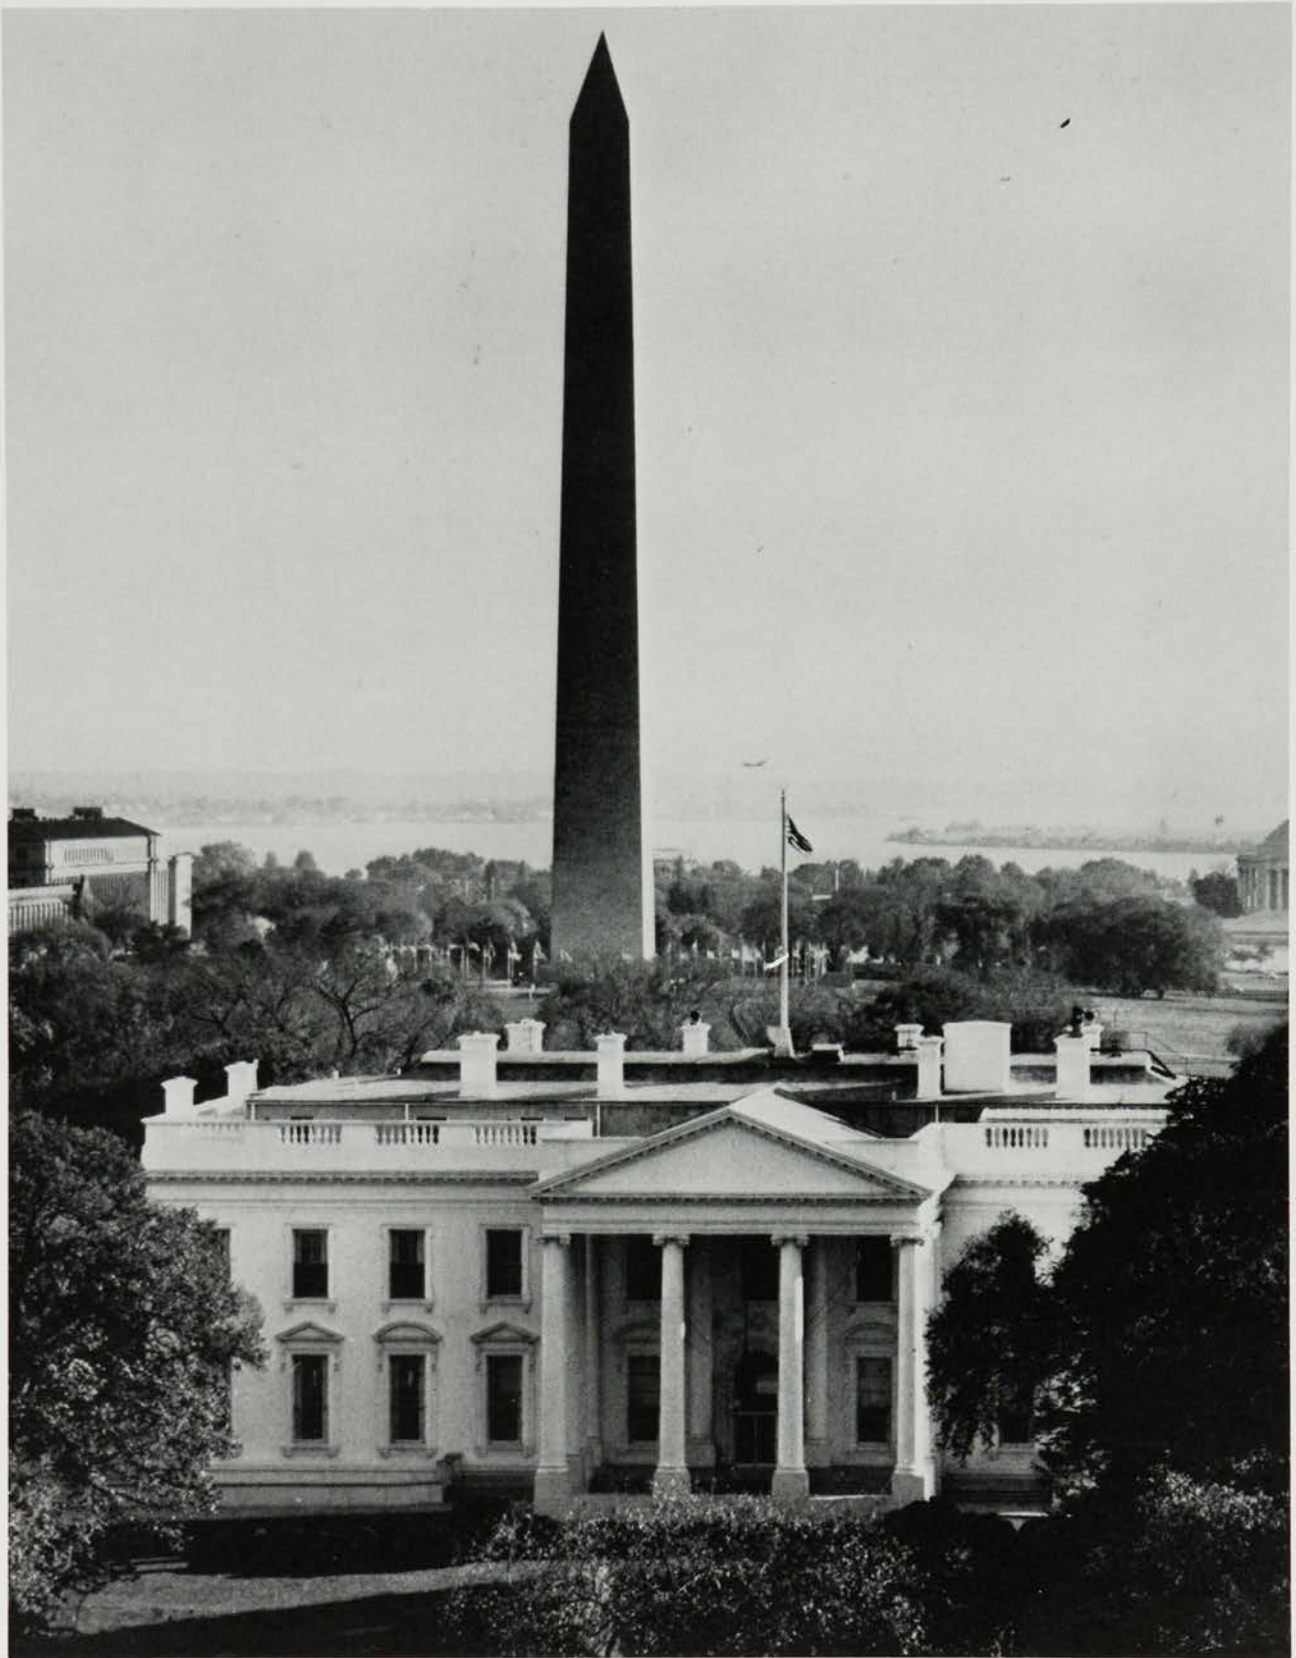

Last Will and Testament of
George Washington, executed
July 9, 1799

George Washington, a life-long advocate of higher education, bequeathed in his will fifty shares of stock for the establishment of a university in the District of Columbia. On the following pages is recounted Washington's description of this proposed university, which achieved its fruition in the establishment of The George Washington University in 1821. This is your George Washington, a university in the nation's capital.

A. Jones, L. Sennett, Don Ardell—President, P. Schwab, W. Bentley. STANDING: B. Ale-shire.

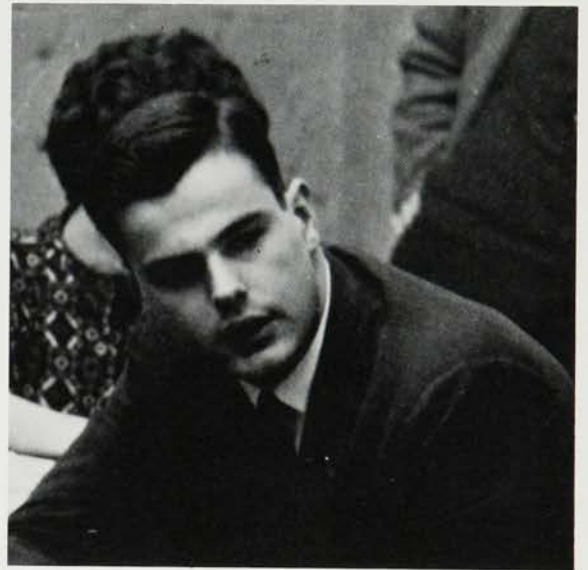

Student Council

L. Stone, J. Cohen, C. Stearns, T. Gutterman, M. Gersten.

The Student Council is the center of student activities at George Washington. During the fall a referendum passed creating February elections and establishing the Student Planning Commission. The Council also sponsored Homecoming Weekend, the Peter, Paul, and Mary Concert, and the Potomac during the fall. In the spring, All-University Follies, May Day, and Colonial Cruise were under the Council's supervision.

Student Life Committee

The Student Life Committee is composed of five members of the faculty and six students, chosen by virtue of the offices they hold on campus. The function of the Student Life Committee is to serve as the judicial branch of the student government. At monthly meetings throughout the year the committee hears and determines all appeals by any campus organization.

SEATED: R. Salaz; N. Johnson; P. Patton, Treasurer; L. Lichtenberg, Vice President; E. Engelbart, President; S. Bailey, Secretary; J. Murray; D. Colner. STANDING: D. Warner; C. Everett.

Religious Council

Working through the Religious Council, organized religion groups on campus work to build students' interest in the weekly Chapel services, encourage them to take part in the Religion in Life program, and promotes an active interest in the various religions.

In the fall a reception, sponsored by the Religious Council, is held to give students a chance to meet the advisers and members of the different religious organizations.

Inter-Sorority Athletic Board

Most active in promotion of numerous sports activities among sororities is the Inter-Sorority Athletic Board. The group is made up of one delegate from each sorority and the Wandering Greeks. Recognizing that sportsmanlike competition is furthered by inter-sorority sports competition, the board intends this to promote better relations between sororities. Trophies are presented at the fall W.A.A. Banquet to groups winning in individual sports. The rotating ISAB trophy for the sorority accumulating the most winning points throughout the year is presented at the W.A.A. Dinner in the spring.

SEATED: S. Greenwood, V.P.; J. Kopelman, Tournament Chairman; J. Allen, Pres.; C. Imhoof, WAA pres.; C. Guran, Sec.; B. Pearson, Treas.

The Hatchet

J. Mandel, L. Stone, C. Darche, P. Jones.

The Hatchet this year attempted to present University news in a provocative manner. The new "Speaking Out" section proved that every problem of public concern has some relevance to a member or segment of the university community. "Nation's Campuses" presented news from other colleges across the country; Col. O'Nial's "Foggy Bottom" continued to be a familiar and much-read section.

Dance Production

Dance Production Groups meet regularly throughout the year, dancing, choreographing, and experimenting in new techniques of modern dance. The dancers' 1962-63 schedule consists of the dance sequences in the Homecoming Musical, "Bye Bye, Birdie," the annual Spring Dance Concert, and participation in area workshops and dance symposia. In cooperation with the Institute of Contemporary Arts, the Dance Groups are also sponsoring several modern dance programs in Lisner Auditorium.

The Glee Club

Dr. Harmon auditions a new talent

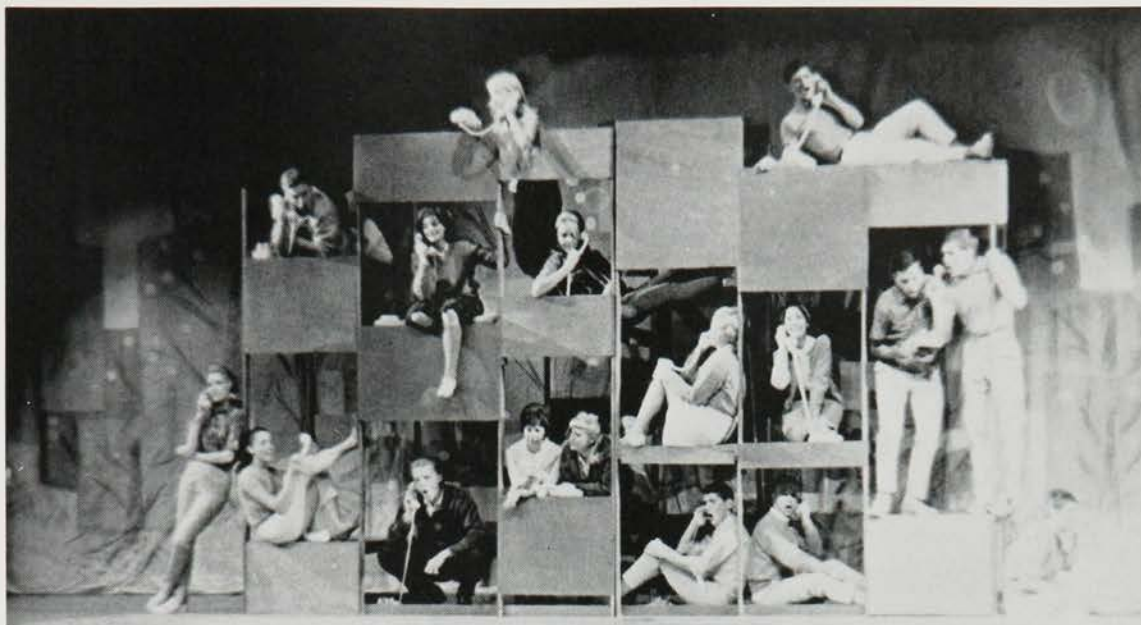

The members of the Glee Club sing not only for the entertainment of others but also for their own pleasure. They contribute to the Christmas festivities at George Washington by putting on their annual performance of Handel's Messiah with the Air Force Symphony and Singing Sergeants. A small part of the Glee Club, the Traveling Troubadours, travel all over the world. This year Dr. Robert H. Harmon is celebrating his 39th year as director of the G.W. Glee Club.

University Players

The University Players, a group of students who are interested in drama, contribute much to GWU. Although active throughout the year, they concentrate on two main productions, each directed by well-known professional directors: the Homecoming musical—this year, “Bye Bye Birdie”—and a more serious drama presented in the spring. In addition, two sets of one-act plays are presented, one in December and the other in the spring. Participation in one drama production makes a student eligible for the University Players.

G.W.'s resident population has grown rapidly in the past several years. Four women's halls—Strong, Madison, Hancock, and Crawford—and three men's halls—Adams, Welling, and Calhoun—are "home" to over one thousand students. Open houses and exchanges give the residents opportunities to meet socially, while midnight fire drills, broken elevators, and buzzing switchboards give everyone a unified feeling such as is seldom found in any other group within a university.

Kappa Psi is an organization composed of pharmacy men whose aim is to increase public awareness in their profession. Members constantly strive for scholastic excellence. Scholarship, however, is not the only concern of Kappa Psi, which encourages the promotion of sociability and brotherhood through association with the fraternity itself.

The American Pharmaceutical Association is the student branch of the national group. There are forty-seven members in the GW group who have completed the requirements for membership by being enrolled in the pharmacy curriculum, having been sponsored by another member, and being approved by the faculty and the Pharmacy Council. At their bimonthly meeting, guest speakers acquaint them with different fields which are related to pharmacy. The American Pharmaceutical Association seeks to promote fellowship and professionalism among pharmacy students.

A "get-acquainted" tea in the fall highlights the group's social calendar. Any student enrolled in the Home Economics course can participate in the many activities of the club.

L. Sennett; C. Carlson; K. Avery; J. Bayol, Pres.; B. Rebhun; J. Gladding; A. Linde.

Big Sis Board

Big Sis provides each new woman student with the advice and friendship of an upperclass woman. The Big Sis helps her Little Sis adjust to the ways of the University, guides her through registration, and helps her get off on the right foot in classes and activities. Snack 'n Chat, Tips 'n Tea with Topnotchers, and the Big Sis-Old Men Mixer are Big Sis' contribution to orientation. Junior Advisors in the residence halls give further advice and companionship to new resident women.

International Student's Society

Following a theme prevalent in all universities, the International Student's Society provides a chance for students of different ethnic backgrounds to meet on a social basis. American student membership in the Society is restricted to one-fourth of the total group. The Society's social and educational program has been received with much enthusiasm on campus; a definite indication of the respect and interest expressed towards it by the student body.

SNEA

The Student National Educational Association holds discussions in the area of education; guest speakers lecture on topics of current interest, bringing education majors information on the teaching field and helping them take a professional attitude toward the future. The group helps members to evaluate the various teaching theories and concepts before graduation. For a balanced program, the SNEA alternates one business meeting with one social meeting a month.

Russian Club

The purpose of the Russian Club is to give interested students an opportunity to learn about the Russian people, language, and culture. The organization has regularly scheduled activities such as the Russian drama group, the Russian folk music and dance group, and the Russian conversation group. The only one membership requirement is interest in the Soviet and its culture.

Hillel Foundation

B'nai B'rith Hillel, the Jewish students' organization at G.W., is recognized for its many religious, charitable, social, and educational services. Included among its functions are scheduled worship services, seminars, speeches, Hebrew and Yiddish lessons, kosher dining, and religious holiday observances, and the annual Ball O' Fire dance. Friday afternoon snack bar and Sunday morning bagel and lox brunches are two of Hillel's most popular activities.

A K Psi

The aims of Alpha Kappa Psi are to further the individual welfare of its members; to foster scientific research in business fields; to educate the public to appreciate and demand higher ideals therein; and to promote and advance the course of study leading to a degree in business administration.

Service to school and community and the development of a professional concept of business education are strongly emphasized by A K Psi. Beta Mu chapter invites and encourages the participation of other students in such programs, thus developing a greater professional consciousness on the part of students in the schools of business.

NELSON

Colonial Boosters was formed to promote student enthusiasm and school spirit for athletic events. To plan and supervise its program, Boosters has a governing board, chosen in the spring, and a Booster committee under the Board.

"George and Martha," our school mascots who are seen at football and basketball games, are sponsored by Boosters. Petitioning for these positions is held in spring and early fall.

To the person who has done the most to promote school spirit, Boosters presents a cup at May Day. This is called the Andy Davis Award in honor of one of G.W.U.'s greatest athletes.

LOOKING BACK

What is it that characterizes a year on a city campus? Whether the campus is covered in autumn leaves or bordered with damp spring grass, there is a mood of excitement. There are new faces, new costumes, new ideas with every cup of coffee. Old traditions, new beginnings, new successes are the heart of each year.—Here lies such a year.

Goat Show

Sorority Pledges gather themselves for one tremendous competition. They sing, dance, and set the audience coughing to win the award. Dates and Parents are properly pleased to find the pretty girls they thought they knew sprouting moustaches and drowning in large tubs.

Miss Sharon Glenn
Room 401
Strong Hall
620 21st Street, Northwest
Washington, D. C.

Dear Miss Glenn:

It was a pleasure meeting you, and I certainly appreciate the honor of selecting Miss Nancy Steinberg as Queen of "The Cherry Tree."

I would like to extend congratulations and best wishes to the students of The George Washington University on this occasion. The opportunity to attend a University located in our Nation's Capital affords you many advantages not found elsewhere. You can certainly feel proud of your school which not only bears the name of our first President but which also has contributed so tremendously in training students to fulfill their duties in a free society.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

THE ROTC

Angel Flight

Angel Flight came into existence when the Air Force discontinued the commissioning of female cadets in 1960. Since then the girls enroll in the AFROTC program and take Leadership Lab in their Freshman and Sophomore years. In their Junior and Senior years, if admission into the Advanced Corps is desired, the Air Science academic courses must be taken in addition to Leadership Lab. ROTC is an opportunity to develop confidence, poise, and other characteristics which further an individual's ability to work with people. Group participation in drills, parades, and University functions stimulates esprit de corps, high morale, and enthusiastic teamwork.

Two Angels and "Stevenson B. Canyon III."

The 140th AFROTC Cadet Group at George Washington University is composed of 180 cadets, who with the Angel Flight, make up the four squadrons of the cadet corps. Within the corps are the honor societies of Pershing Rifles, Arnold Air Society and the Angel Flight.

The Color Guard, Cadet Capt. Grimes and the 2nd Squadron.

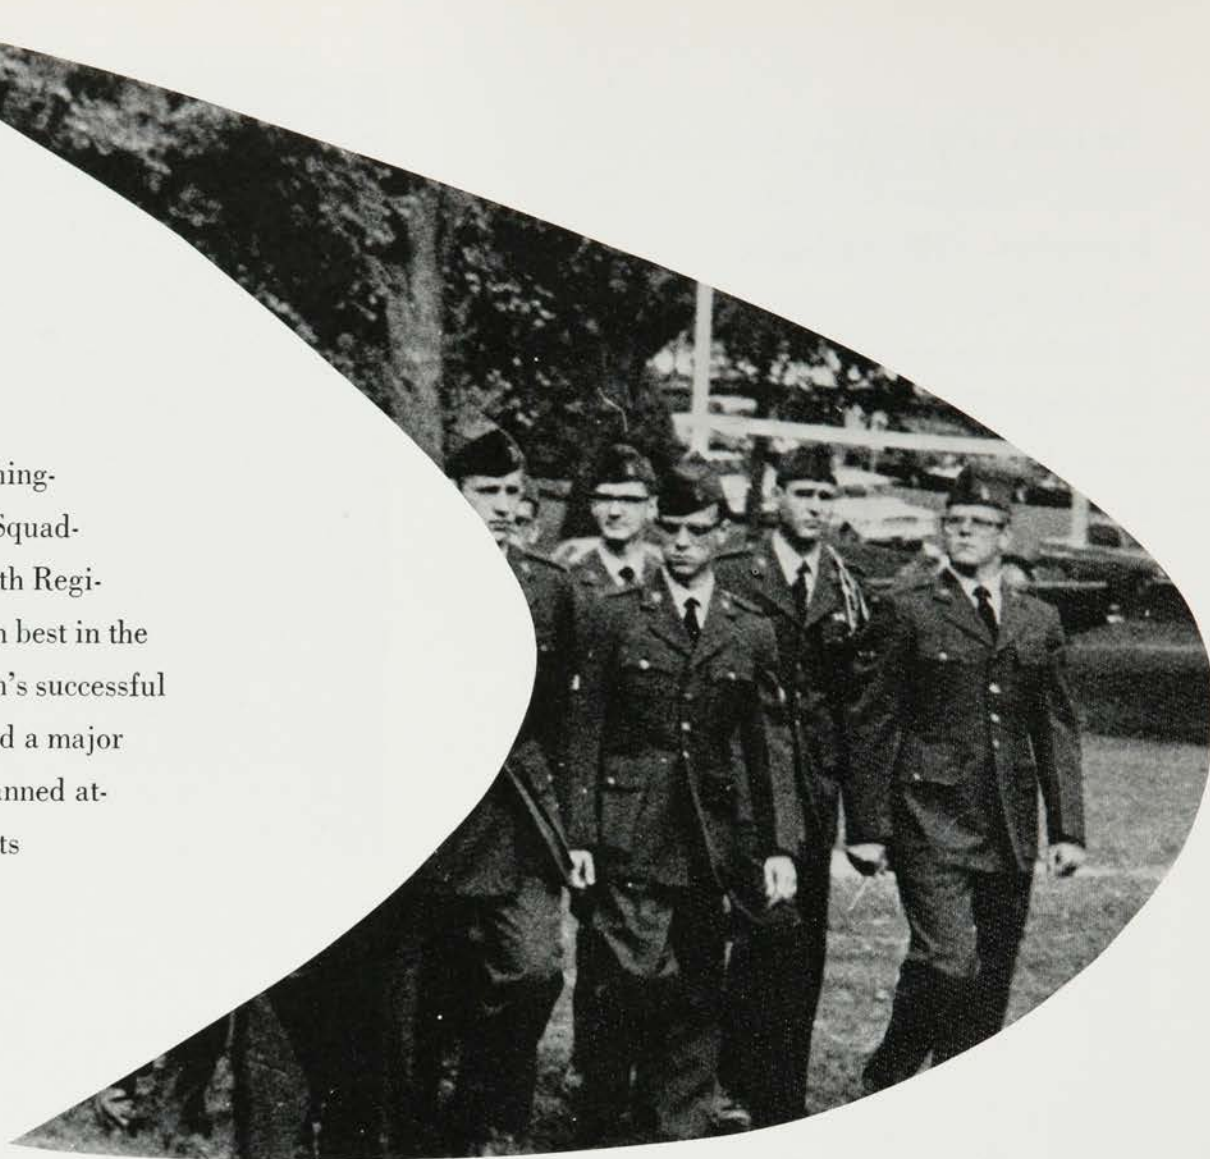

LT. COL. EDWARD M. WALL, USAF,
Director, Division of Air Science.

CADET COL. BENTLEY

The National Society of Pershing Rifles at George Washington is represented by Squadron "F" of the Fifteenth Regiment which was chosen best in the Nation. The Squadron's successful year of events included a major reorganization and planned attendances at drill meets and parades.

Tenth Anniversary Dinner of the Carl Spaatz Squadron of the Arnold Air Society. General Spaatz is present in the center.

Cdt. Col. Bentley presents the "Squadron of the Month" award to Capt. Jones of the Pershing Rifles.

Arnold Air Society functions to promote American citizenship in the Space Age; further the purpose, mission, tradition, and concept of the United States Air Force; advance the support of air power; and to create a harmonious relationship within the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps. This year's Squadron activity highlights have included: the initiation of pledges, National Angel Flight-Arnold Air Society Mixers, the annual Arnold Air Society dinner, and representation at the Society's National Conclave in Buffalo, New York. A blood drive and high school visitation program were the Society's main community projects.

Tassels

Tassels, the sophomore women's honorary sponsored by Mortar Board, honors both high scholarship and outstanding participation in campus activities. Tapping takes place each fall during Welcome Week, serving as an inspiration for the incoming freshman women.

Tassels pledges contribute to both campus and community through their service projects, and also learn more about university student life before their initiation in the spring.

Mortar Board

Mortar Board, the national senior women's honorary, chooses its members on the basis of outstanding scholarship, leadership and service to the university. Tapping for this honor, the highest which a senior woman can receive, is held in the spring. Each new member receives the traditional white rose and black robe from a graduating member.

Mortar Board girls, easily recognized by their white flannel blazers, sponsor Tassels, the sophomore women's honorary, as well as the annual Smarty Party for outstanding juniors. Members also select the girls who serve on the Big Sis Board. This year the group has considered the recommendation of an activity-point system for campus activities.

Alpha Pi Epsilon

Alpha Pi Epsilon is an honorary for Home Economics majors who have demonstrated outstanding scholastic ability. Each year the members participate in various service projects, and celebrate their Founder's Day at the annual luncheon in March.

Tau Beta Pi

Tau Beta Pi recognizes achievement in the field of Engineering, both of undergraduates and of alumni who are outstanding in their field. To be eligible for membership, a student must rank in the upper one-eighth of his junior, or the upper one-fifth of his senior class. Prospective members are also considered on the basis of character, leadership and service.

District of Columbia Gamma Chapter was installed February 16, 1963. Formerly Sigma Epsilon, the organization was accepted for affiliation with Tau Beta Pi on the merits of its high scholastic standards.

Omicron Delta Kappa, considered to be the service counterpart of Phi Beta Kappa, is a national honor society which recognizes excellence in scholarship and leadership among university students, faculty and administration, as well as the community.

Twice each year, at Homecoming and at May Day, ODK taps for membership those junior and senior men who have shown achievement in one or more of five areas: scholarship; student government; social and religious affairs; publications; music, drama and other art forms; and athletics. This honor is one of the highest awarded to university men.

Panhellenic Council

CAROL COX, President

Coordination and regulation of all inter-sorority activities is the primary purpose of the Panhellenic Council which is composed of the president and one delegate from each sorority and a delegate from Wandering Greeks. Setting up and enforcing fall and spring rush rules is the largest single endeavor of the Council. Panhel takes its part in fall orientation of incoming women students with Open House. Panhel Sing and Prom are part of an exciting March Weekend which Panhel sponsors.

Interfraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council is one of the most active groups on campus. Its primary function is to promote good relations among fraternities and to set up and enforce rush rules. The fall activities began early with the IFC-Smoker and the IFC-Panhel dance for incoming freshmen. The highlight of the spring semester was the IFC Sing and Prom in March. At the Sing the individual groups competed for the coveted IFC trophies for the best singing group and the best Sing director. Also scholarship awards are given at this time.

K. KELLY, President

The two junior organizations for Panhel and IFC are Junior Panhel and Junior IFC. Both these organizations make it possible for the pledges to take an active part in the planning and co-ordinating activities which are an important part of fraternity life.

G.W.	0	Syracuse	35

The George Washington football team, under second-year coach Jim Camp, started its drive to attain national attention, playing a ten-game schedule, including contests with powerful Army and Syracuse.

Boasting a fine starting squad, but lacking bench strength, G.W. was upset by V.M.I. and V.P.I. in its first two games. We then barreled back with successive victories over Brigham Young, Furman, and Boston. Under this impetus, the Colonials almost succeeded in upsetting unbeaten and nationally-ranked West Virginia, only to lose in the final seconds. This heartbreaker seemed to take the starch out of the G.W. offense; they scored only twenty points in losing the final four games to Army, William & Mary, Richmond, and Syracuse.

Nonetheless individual players gave Colonial rooters many thrills, with outstanding efforts from Dick Drummond, Frank Pazzaglia, Charley Reed, Jim Johnson, Harry Haught, Garry Schollick, Paul Munley, Warren Corbin, Art Gubitosa, Ron Cindrich, and Bill Pashe.

THE SEASON

The Sophomore-laden Colonials this year pulled off several near upsets in the Southern Conference and emerged with a record of six wins and seven losses.

Ken Legins was selected as All Southern Conference Honorable Mention player. Ken averaged over fifteen points a game and had a season high against Richmond of 27 points in a single evening.

Mark Clark, also a sophomore, averaged over thirteen points a game and also had a 27 point evening against West Va. in a near upset. Unfortunately we lost, 100-97.

In the extremely close "Big Three" competition the Terps of Maryland nipped two games from the Colonials by one or two points in each contest. The Colonials split with GU in a bitter battle of sophomores.

Colonial rooters had high hopes for their chances to repeat their 1961 victory in the S.C. Tournament, this year held in Richmond. But again in the last minute of their first game against Furman our boys were eliminated by a narrow margin of three points. West Va. won the conference crown again this year.

The lone senior on the GW team was Don Ardell, who came up late in the season and scored 24 points against Va. Tech., averaging out an earlier loss to the Paladins.

Center Joe Adamitis and Mike Checkan added their height and scoring ability to the team while Garry Holloman, Phil Aruscavage, Joe Mullan, and Ric Duques composed the remainder of the first string. Duke Farrell and Ed Ruppert added their Hustle to make the Colonials known and rated as having "the best bench in the Conference."
